ANNUAL REPORT

our mission

Share Our Spare ensures every Chicago area child, ages 0-5, has the essential items they need to support their health and development and equip them for a strong start. SOS activates community impact through empowerment, innovative solutions, and a network of partners, so that children can thrive and families can shift from crisis management to caregiving with dignity. As a result, we help lay the foundation for a resilient and equitable community.

At Share Our Spare, we believe that every child deserves a good start and every parent the opportunity to provide one. Since 2011, we have helped an estimated 50,000 unique children and their families across metro Chicago find support, strength and hope through an agency partner model that emphasizes wraparound services and empowering upward economic mobility.

Dear Friends

In 2021 my husband and I welcomed our third child, a baby girl we named Grace. After an early health scare, Grace is now an active, thriving 1-year-old trying to keep up with her equally active older brothers. To me, there is nothing more joyous and rewarding – and, yes, challenging! – than being a parent. Through all of its trials and lessons, I know that raising a child is the most important and best job I will ever have.

I think a lot about the parents Share Our Spare serves. They work hard at being good parents, seeking out the knowledge and support they need to make good decisions for their children's safety, wellbeing and development. Yet poverty forces some impossible choices. Putting food on the table or heating the house. Paying the rent or seeing a doctor. Keeping the lights on or having enough clean diapers. I can tell you that when you have a baby, diapers aren't optional, they're a necessity.

Two years of COVID and rising inflation have only exacerbated the financial hardships of our families. Diaper costs alone have risen 14%, twice the rate of normal inflation. But if there is a light, a positive in all of this, it's a greater awareness – and I believe empathy – for our most vulnerable populations. There is so much need in many of our Chicago communities, but also so much generosity from people like you.

With your help, Share Our Spare had a significant impact in 2021, our 10th year of serving children and families across metro Chicago. We distributed over 3.5 million diapers – nearly 3x that of 2020 – and provided over 1.7 million infant and toddler books, gear and care items to partner agencies. We grew our partner agencies by 17 to 69, while also launching a pilot program with the Greater Chicago Food Depository to provide diapers to the Food Depository's 50+ food pantries and other partners serving Cook County. In May, we moved into our new 8,200 sq. ft. Sharehouse, which not only accommodates this incredible growth but enables us to build out our vision of creating a place for agencies and the community to share and receive ideas, resources and education.

All of this was made possible by a community of donors and supporters that care, as much as we do, about the stability of our families and the ability of every Chicago area child to thrive. During the year, we engaged new Community Councils to serve as ambassadors of the mission into all corners of Chicago, and we welcomed many new volunteers as well as returning volunteers who had stayed away due to COVID. Their presence changes the energy of our space and we were so happy to welcome them back!

We use the word EXTRAordinary as a way to emphasize what our extra can mean to a struggling family.

It may be the one thing that prevents a physical, emotional or financial tailspin, or the hand up that helps move a family upward. But I also think it aptly describes everyone working through Share Our Spare to ensure every child gets a good start, especially my amazingly creative and dedicated team. THANK YOU for your continued support. You are extraordinary.

Our partner agencies rely on Share Our Spare to provide critical supplies each month for their families. More than items, we're proud to be a trusted source of support as they seek to provide a safety net for families working towards better for their children.

Lessening the Burden

“When you see a need, you can’t turn away from it,” says Esperanza Torres, BBO (Better Birth Outcomes) Case Manager Team Leader for Erie Family Health Centers. It’s not uncommon for her and her fellow case managers working in the healthcare provider’s prenatal care services to go into their own pockets to buy essentials for a patient and her baby. When Erie began partnering with Share Our Spare in 2016, “a huge burden was lifted,” she says.

Torres visits the Sharehouse twice a month to shop the shelves for baby care items her team needs and picks up diapers once a month. “A doctor may call and say that ‘the baby is sleeping in mom’s bed’ and I know I can turn to Share Our Spare to locate a safe sleep alternative for the patient,” she says. “The team is awesome in responding to immediate needs as well as ongoing ones like diapers. They are one of the biggest resources we have.”

Through 13 health centers across Chicagoland, Erie serves more than 80,000 low-income, low-resource families every year – regardless of their ability to pay. Torres and her team are focused on improving the health outcomes of mothers and babies, who often live in unstable environments. Diapers, she says, are a constant need that can lead to serious physical and emotional health problems for babies and parents when in short supply. “The issue is that programs like WIC and SNAP don’t provide assistance for diapers, and our families don’t have transportation to or the ability to buy in bulk at one of the big-box stores, so the cost for them becomes out of reach.”

Torres says COVID has made survival 10 times harder for families, but Share Our Spare has really stepped up to meet the need. Her ultimate goal, she says, is to help lessen the need of families for support services. “We’re working constantly toward healthier families and communities that have the ability to thrive. And, we are so grateful to have Share Our Spare working with us.”

Neighbors Helping Neighbors

Shevon Garner has big goals. "I want to grow my daycare and someday be able to move it out of my house into my own center," she says. The fact that Garner has a home to run a business out of is no small achievement. On July 19, 2021, her house caught fire from a faulty air conditioner in the living room. "We lost everything - I mean everything - from fire and water damage."

The Red Cross was able to put up Garner and her three kids, ages 2, 13 and 17, in a hotel for the first two weeks, but then she says they sought shelter with family members and even slept in her truck for a week or so before finding a new home in September. "I was focused on getting back our stability and staying strong for my kids," she says. Still, Garner wondered how they would start over with all of the things they needed, until a friend told her about Kim and MASK. "She's been our miracle."

Kendra Snow, known by the community as "Miss Kim," sees herself more as everyone's auntie. "You know you can always call your auntie and find help," she says.

Through the assistance of Share Our Spare and others that pitched in, Snow was able to provide Garner with clothing, pull-ups, underwear, coats, blankets, hygiene items and more.

She now regularly brings supplies for Garner's in-home daycare. "I'm really proud of how hard she's worked and grateful that I've had Share Our Spare to help me help her," says Snow.

Snow has been on call and literally on one of the most dangerous corners of Chicago since the start of MASK (Mothers/Men Against Senseless Killings) seven years ago. Her own son was once shot (thankfully not killed) at the very corner in Englewood where she now sits in shipping containers turned classrooms that provide neighborhood kids with tutoring, access to computers and a quiet place to study. The idea behind MASK is simply putting eyes on the street and neighbors helping neighbors in order to interrupt violence and teach children to grow up as friends rather than enemies. "If you're tight with your neighbor, you're not going to do them harm," she says.

Snow describes herself as a "true believer" that's seen some of the biggest doubters turn around. "My boyfriend, Lou, would always question my passion - why I wanted to be here doing this - until he was hired as a driver for Share Our Spare. Now he says he gets it."

Partnership a Holistic Response to Need

In July, we announced a new program with the Greater Chicago Food Depository to deliver diapers to Food Depository partner sites in Chicago and surrounding Cook County suburbs. Funded by the Food Depository and managed by SOS, the program provides about 550,000 diapers each month to 51 high priority sites, including food pantries, soup kitchens, shelters and other food assistance programs.

“We’ve heard from our partners that this program has absolutely changed the lives of many of their clients. It’s been an overwhelmingly positive response,” says Lynda Rosenbush, Manager of Food Partnerships for the Greater Chicago Food Depository.

Rosenbush says the program represents the Food Depository’s largest effort to provide other essentials in addition to food to its partners, and SOS has made the execution seamless. The partnership has enabled SOS to hire a full-time driver to make deliveries to the 50+ agencies every month, lease a box truck and bring on an AmeriCorps VISTA to help with order fulfillment.

“More than the logistics, we’ve found an expert partner in Share Our Spare that shares our mission to advocate for and ensure all children and families across the Chicagoland area have the essentials, and thus the stability they need to thrive,” says Rosenbush. “By partnering, we are working to build a more holistic response to connect families who are food insecure to other community resources.”

Feeding America projects that Cook County has experienced a 27% increase in food insecure households (est. 613,000 people) since the start of the pandemic. “Low-income communities of color, particularly on Chicago’s South and West Sides, have long faced disproportionate rates of poverty, and this crisis has only widened those gaps,” says Rosenbush. “Our goal can’t be to return to pre-pandemic levels, but to show the courage and ingenuity to address the root causes and build a more equitable society.”

Diaper Need A Closer Look

NEED

1 in 3 Chicagoland families struggles to afford diapers.

- Diaper need has risen an estimated 70% nationwide during pandemic.
- On average, one child will need 6-12 diaper changes each day.

COST

$70-80 Average diaper cost per child every month.

- Low-income families can spend twice as much as families that have access to bulk-buying options.
- Diapers are taxed as “luxury” items and no federal assistance exists for purchasing diapers.

CARE

3 in 5 parents miss an average of 4 days a month of work because they do not have diapers.

- Children must have a full day’s worth of disposable diapers to attend most child care centers.
- Daycares and laundry facilities often do not accept cloth diapers.

HEALTH

Children whose needs are consistently unmet can suffer toxic stress.

- Leaving babies in soiled diapers can lead to diaper rash, staph infections and UTIs.
- Moms with diaper need are 3x more likely to suffer from depression and anxiety.

SOS FILLING THE GAP

Diaper costs have increased 14%, compared to 7% for overall consumer prices

2019
average cost per diaper

2022
average cost per diaper

SOS

Our Sharehouse accepts donation drop-offs twice each week, and offers engaging volunteer opportunities weekdays and many Saturdays for individuals, families with children (ages 6 and above) and groups of up to 20 people.

New Sharehouse Unlocking Potential for ‘Community Hub’

“This new space has been wonderful for a lot of reasons, and we’ve really only scratched the surface of its potential,” says Bridget Rundquist, Share Our Spare (SOS) Director of Partnerships and Community Engagement. Rundquist joined SOS in December 2020, when our staff was shuttling between three different buildings across the city. “Let’s just say that it didn’t help with productivity or communications,” she says. Five months later, Rundquist was helping to pack boxes for the move to our new Sharehouse in Old Irving Park.

The building, leased from a current SOS donor, offers 8,200 square feet of space that’s ADA accessible, easy to load and unload full trucks of items, and is bright and inviting for the 150+ visitors to the site every week, according to Rundquist.

The larger space means capacity to serve more families. Equally exciting, she says, are plans underway for turning about 2,000 square feet of the space into a community hub of sorts. “This is what we’ve been dreaming of for awhile - to provide a gathering space for corporate teams and other groups, and a place of learning and networking that may get people through our doors that normally would not come.”

Rundquist envisions blood drives, CPR instruction, classes for new mothers, Boy Scout meetings, inservices for agency partners and so much more in the new conference rooms scheduled for completion in the summer of 2022. “It really allows us to round out our services beyond items, especially for our agency partners,” she says. “For example, if we can provide a class on the latest recommendations for safe infant sleep that a case manager can then use to educate her client, then we’ve created an even greater ripple effect that could save a life. It’s opportunities like this - and the amazingly good people I get to work with - that keep my cup full.”
